PAHM Press Release

Accra, 17th January 2024
Fundraising Dinner on Independence Day

The Executive Council of the Pan African Heritage Museum (PAHM) is hosting a Special Fundraising Dinner at the Kempinski Gold Coast Hotel on Ghana's Independence Day, Wednesday 6th March 2024.

Themed "The Africa Heritage Night - Making a Contribution towards a Better Humanity", the event is organized to raise more funds for the construction of the Pan African Heritage Museum on Heritage Hills, Pomadze, near Winneba Roundabout in the Central Region.

The Night will feature South Africa's Princess of Africa Yvonne Chaka Chaka, Ghana's Rap Doctor Okyeame Kwame, and Ghana-UK's FuseODG of Azonto fame.

The Pan-African Heritage Museum, conceived as the first of its kind in the world, seeks to exhibit the history, arts, culture, achievements, and ideals of the pan-African world from the ancient to the contemporary.

The Dinner, to be held under the patronage of the eminent Council of Elders of the Museum, including President of the Republic, Nana Akufo-Addo and some African Kings and Industrialists, is expected to attract corporate Africa, Patrons of the arts, Embassies of the pan-African world, and individuals.

The Museum designer, James Nnedu-George of Nigeria, Dr Babacar MBow of Senegal, and Sandra Appiah, CEO of Face2Face Africa will be present.
